

Monthly Electricity Report

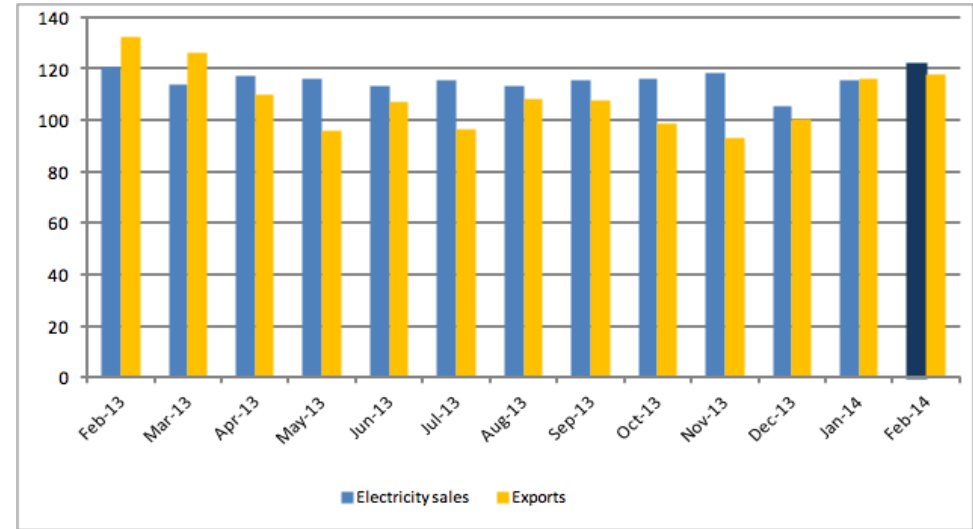

Chart 1. Electricity total sales index (respective month 2010 = 100)

The composite electricity sales index consists of domestic sales and exports. The index showed a mixed trend of up and downward for the rest of 2013, however, an upward trend is shown in the first two months of 2014. The index increased to 122 in February 2014 from 116 in January 2014, exceeding the base year index of February 2010 (100). In comparison with the corresponding month, it is slightly above with only one basis point.

The electricity sales increased in terms of mega watts per hour in February 2014 from 249 022 MWh in January 2014 to 250 901 MWh in February 2014. Comparing to the corresponding month of February 2013, it increased by 3 038 MWh.

Chart 2. Electricity sales subsectors index (respective month 2008=100)

The Domestic electricity sales index of 122 for February 2014 exceeded the previous month of January 2014 by 6 points basis and slightly above the corresponding month of February 2013 by 3 point basis.

On the other hand, the export index in February 2014 (118) increased by 2 point basis when compared to the previous month of January 2014 (116), but below the corresponding month of February 2013 with an index of 132.