

FRIEDRICH
EBERT STIFTUNG

Forum for Experts on Social Protection (FESP) in collaboration with Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung (FES) and the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences of the University of Namibia (UNAM) will host the following event:

Public Lecture
“Politics and Social Protection in the Namibian and African context”

Speaker: Prof. Joseph Diescho
Discussant: Mr. Mahongora Kavihuha
Date: Tuesday, 17 October 2017
Time: 17h30
Venue: Video Conferencing Room Main Library, UNAM, Windhoek

All interested persons and stakeholders are cordially invited to participate.

Kindly confirm your attendance in advance with Ms. Kahambea

Ms. Cheryl Kahambea
Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung (FES)
T: +264-61 417500
E: office@fesnam.org.na

Prof. Joseph Diescho is a Namibian writer, political analyst and public speaker. He holds several education degrees in Political Science and other fields. During his student days, he worked against the apartheid system and was imprisoned in Peddie and East London. In 1984, he was a co-founder member of NANSO. He was awarded many awards by many organizations. Throughout his life, he demonstrated independence of thought and intellectual honesty.