NIPAM LAUNCHES PUBLIC SECTOR TALK SHOW

NIPAM has launched its official Podcast that will be looking at pertinent issues within the Public Sector by bringing these issues to a platform where they can be deliberated on. The Podcast Show will go by the name Public Sector Talk with Haukambe and will aim to interview people of influence, insight and renown within the Public Sector space.

Podcasting in the larger African context is booming with neighbouring country South Africa experiencing a boom of late with an estimated 16 million listeners and it is for this reason this communication channel was chosen to expand the footprint on the NIPAM Brand in order to reach a wider audience.

Simultaneously by exploiting this communication channel it allows NIPAM to achieve its mandate of being a Thank Tank Facilitator within the Public Sector of Namibia.

You can listen to the NIPAM Podcast by looking for us on all major podcast-streaming platforms such as Google Podcast, Spotify, Breaker etc. You can do this by simply searching NIPAM Namibia Podcast. The podcast will also be produced in a video format, which will be distributed via our social media accounts of Facebook, Instagram, LinkedIn and YouTube.
