NIPAM TO WORKSHOP FOUR TRAINING COURSES TO STAKEHOLDERS

Mr. Joseph Tjakwanda
NIPAM Curriculum and Instructional
Design Officer

Stakeholders Engagement is an important process in the designing of a training course. It enables the facilitators to get valuable input from the stakeholders, which inter alia allows to enhance the courses and ensure that they remain germane to the needs.

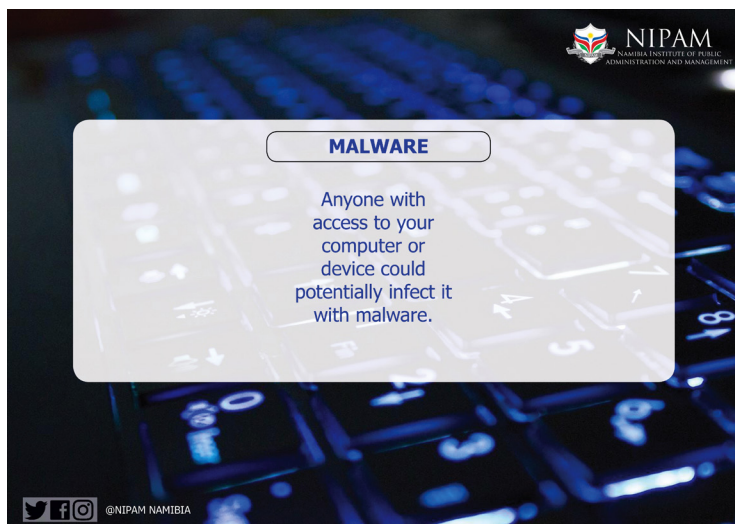

learning, and Transformation. These elements ensure that the training courses being provided by NIPAM are linked to the public sector performance system and respond to the actual performance challenges in the public sector.

In this endeavour, NIPAM will be workshoping four training courses with stakeholders on 4th February 2022. The courses are Disciplinary Procedures, Industrial and Labour Relations Management, Project Management and Mastering Secretarial Skills.

NIPAM's training philosophy is based on four key elements, i.e., Experiential, Participatory, Lifelong
